

AR+JEWELRY PROJECT

"Block" is a wearable device that combining Jewelry with Augmented Reality (AR). The user/audience would experience the device through both physical and virtual aspects. The main goals of this project are to discover a new way of communication, along with creating a piece of decorative high-tech jewelry.

INSPRATON

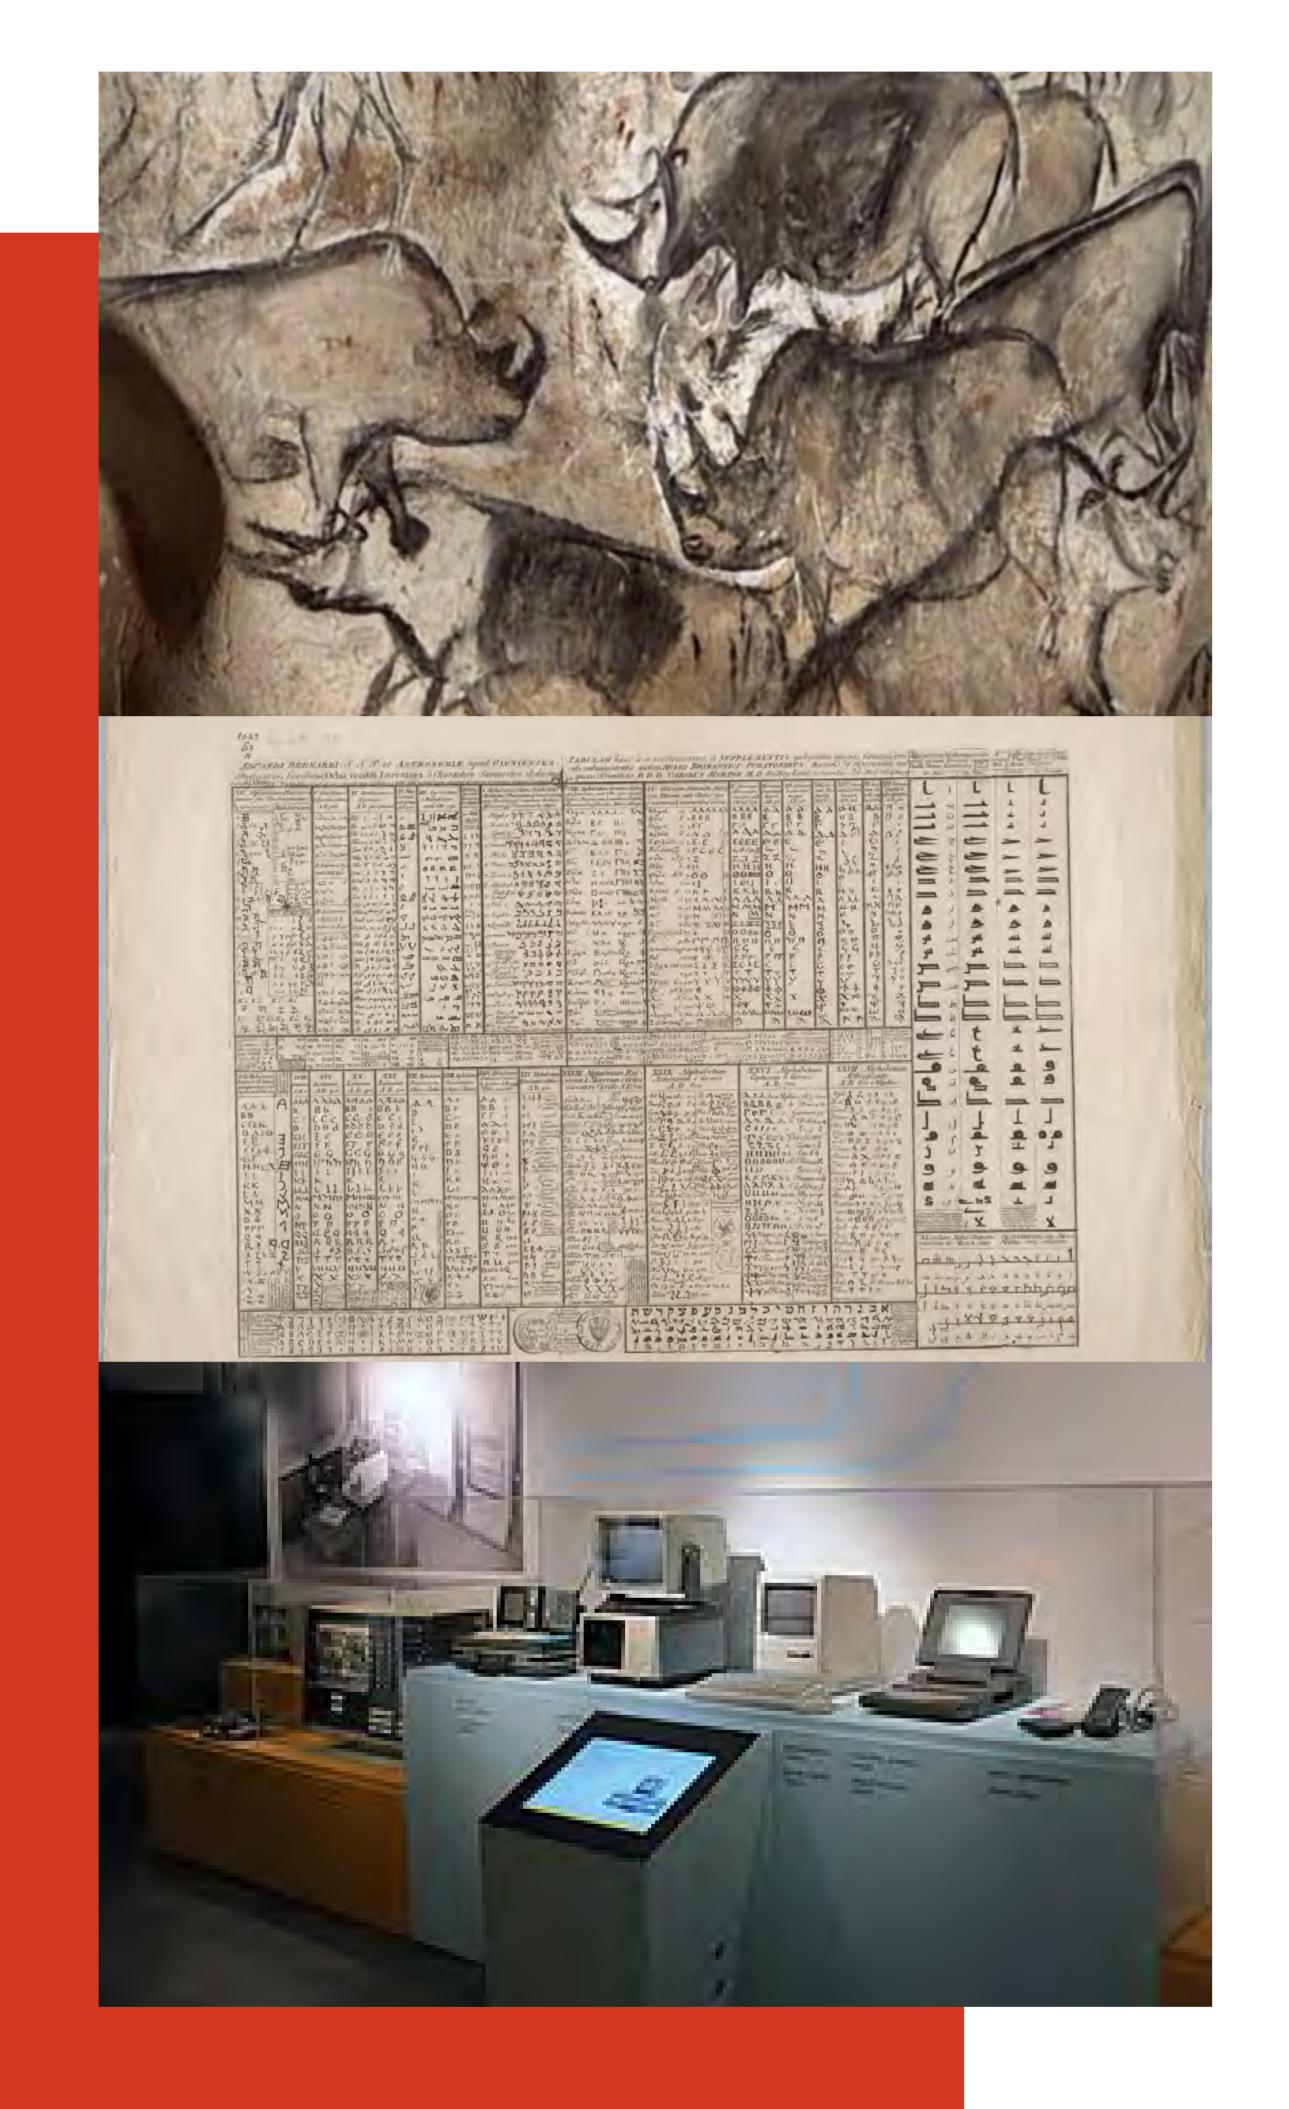

During Covid-19, people start to wear masks during the daily time.

Mask, therefore becoming the protection of human beings. While at the same time, masks also limit communication around people. Facial expressions are blocked by the mask.

RESEARCH

History of Communication

The Chauvet-Pont-d'Arc Cave in the Ardèche department of southeastern France is a cave that contains some of the best-preserved figurative cave paintings in the world, as well as other evidence of Upper Paleolithic life.

The first pure alphabets emerged around 2000 BC in Ancient Egypt, but by then alphabetic principles had already been incorporated into Egyptian hieroglyphs for a millennium.

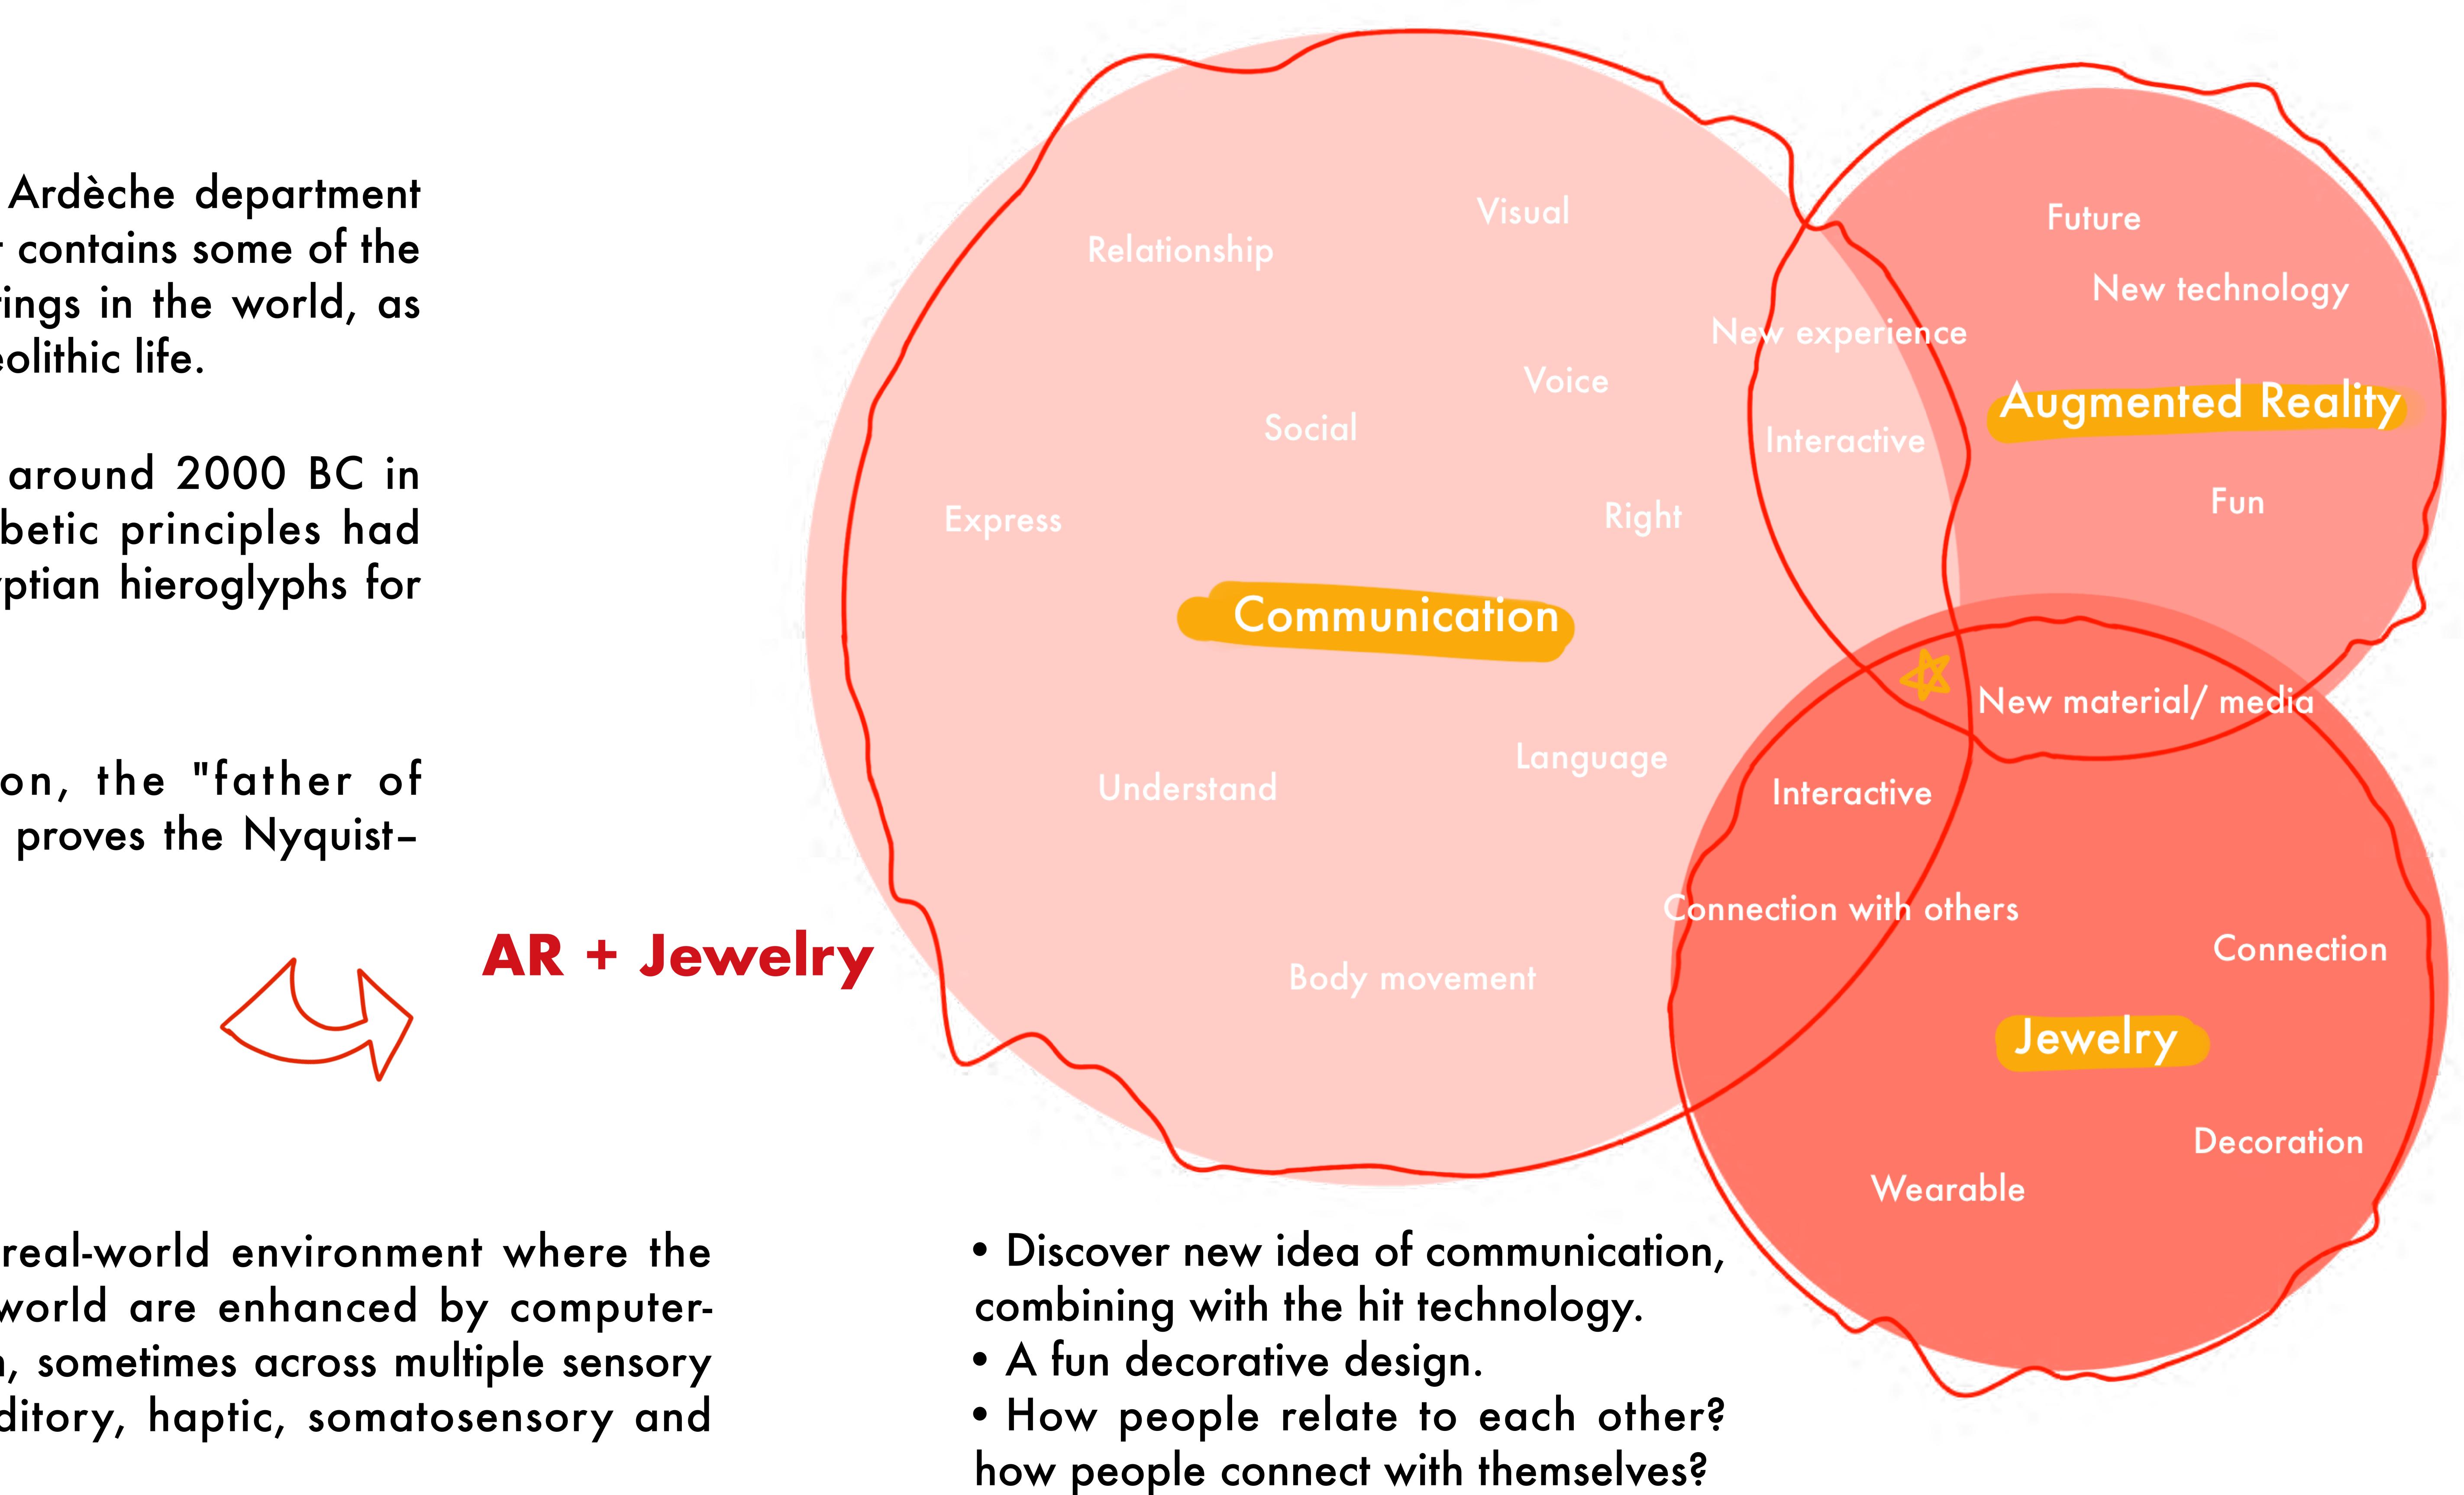

1949 - Claude Elwood Shannon, the "father of information theory", mathematically proves the Nyquist-Shannon sampling theorem.

Augmented reality (AR)

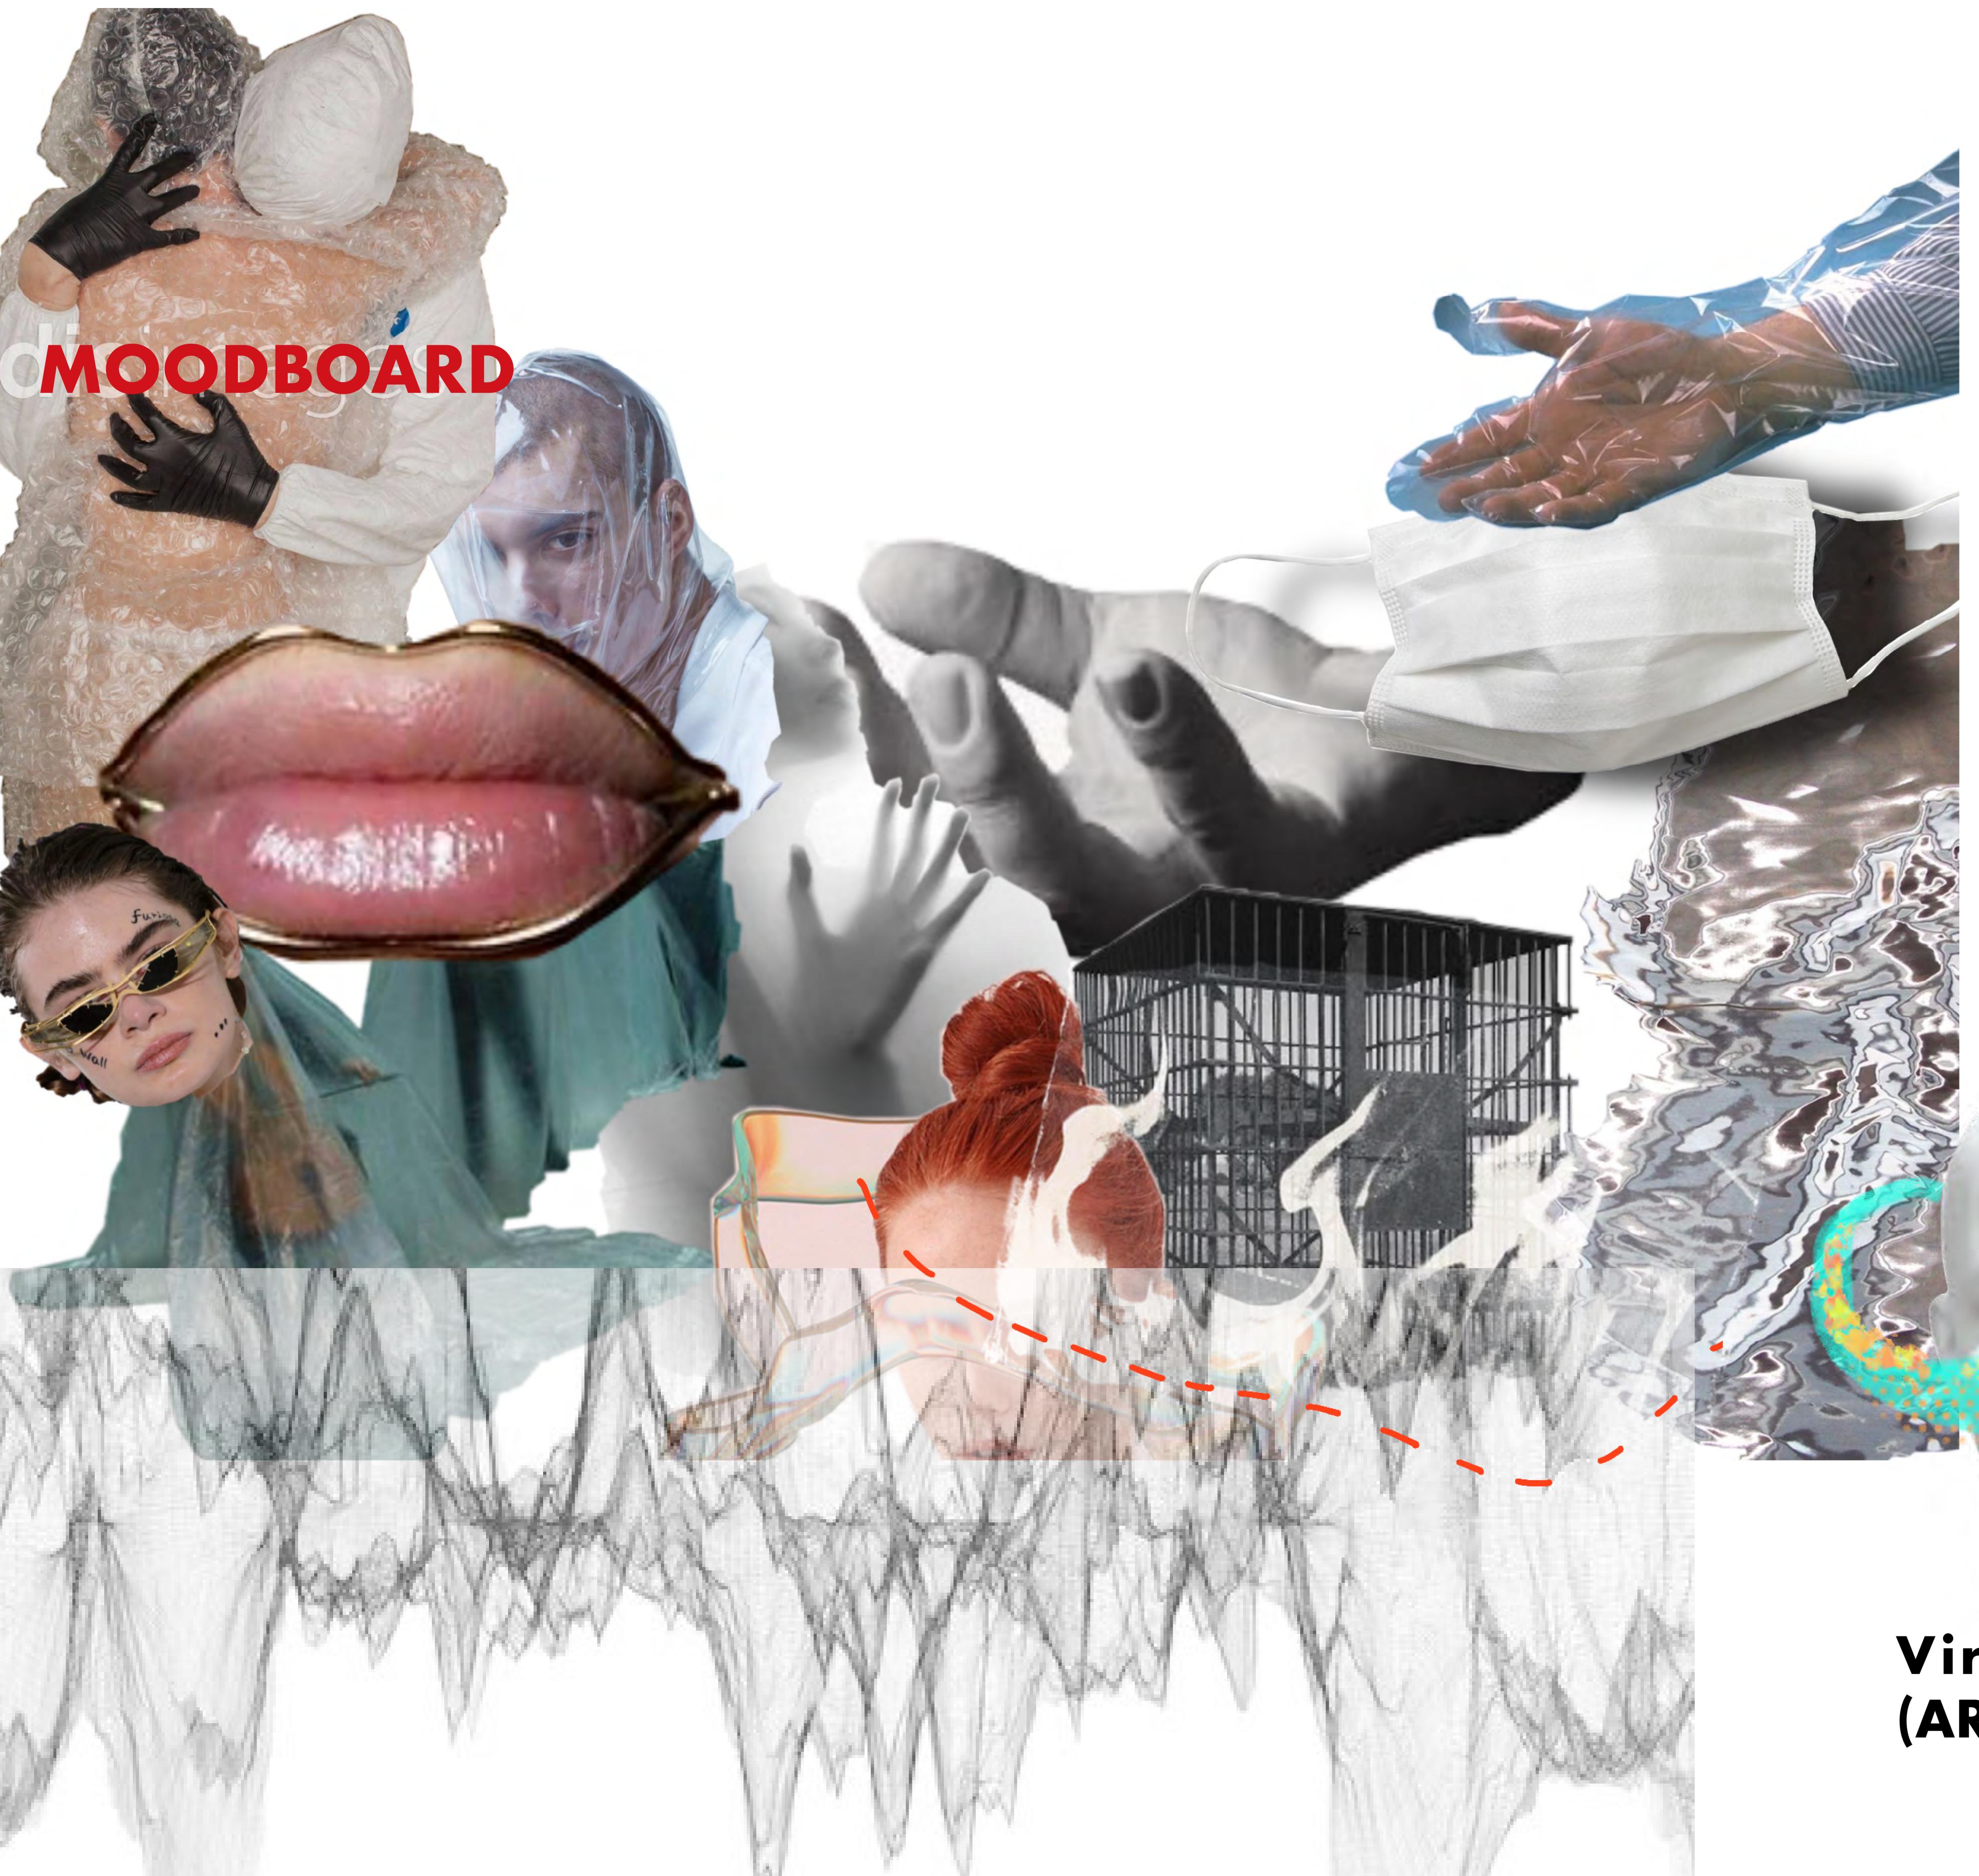

an interactive experience of a real-world environment where the objects that reside in the real world are enhanced by computergenerated perceptual information, sometimes across multiple sensory modalities, including visual, auditory, haptic, somatosensory and olfactory.
